ABSTRACT
The topic on the (iqh) jurisprudence of Ibn Abbas (may Allah be pleased with them) in penalties, districts and the means of proof and its impact on Islamic (iqh) jurisprudence by addressing the doctrines of the four schools - the Hanafi, Maliki, Shafi'i and Hanbali, and Althaheryah - and some great figures of Islamic (iqh) jurisprudence of the companions, followers and scholars, God bless them all, Abdullah Ben Massoud, Abdullah bin Omar, Said Ibn al-Musayyib, Al-Hasan Al-Basri, Layth Ibn Saad and Awzai and others, contemporary applications represented by codification of Shari'at regulation law in the Egyptian Parliament, Egyptian and Palestinian law.

The paper addressed various topics related to criminal law, civil, Judicial Authority law, criminal Evidence law, and civil, designated the following chapters:

The introductory chapter: through it translated to Abdullah Ibn Abbas, may Allah be pleased with him, through multiple ways, as mentioning his name, nickname, title, lineage, his birth, upbringing, his scientific career, his qualities, and his death.

Chapter I: addressed the reality of crime and punishment, punishment of crimes and the difference between it and rebuke (Altaazer) and retribution, which dealt with issues relating to crimes of adultery, slander, and theft.

Chapter II: dealt with issues relating to crimes of intoxication, apostasy, and banditry, and various issues of punishment, overlapping punishments with homicide, intercession, publicizing, and prevention with suspicions.

Chapter III: It implies the act of crime, murder and types as well as the rule of crime and evidence, issues related to retribution of soul, and without soul, and Blood Money (wergild).

Chapter IV: Tackled the act the judiciary and the means of proof, issues relating to judiciary, judge investiture, inauguration of the best, woman, the reprobate and ignorant of the Judiciary, through it touched the issues relating to the testimony, aith, and some various issues related to oath (alqasma) and evidence.

The paper concluded by the main findings and recommendations, followed by indexes.