Introduction:
The tombs of nobles consider one of the most Important Monuments, which are still standing as a witness on the greatness of the Ancient Egyptian Civilization, especially The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period at Thebes, which distinguished by many Artistic and Architectural Characteristics, These Artistic and Architectural Characteristics reveal to the features of prosperity and progress and also features of Weakness which happened at the end of the Ramesside Period.

Study Problem.
The Study Problem determines in that the most Studies and Researches in these Tombs interested in studying and Researching the daily Life Scenes and the after-life scenes, while Neglected studying and Researching the Artistic and Architectural Characteristics in The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period at Thebes.

Study Aims:
The study aims to:
- Classify the Tombs of Nobles belong to the Ramesside Period.
- Recognize the Artistic and Architectural Characteristics of The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period at Western Thebes.
- Determine the Artistic and Architectural Characteristics, which distinguish the Tombs of Nobles in the nineteenth dynasty and which distinguish the Tombs of Nobles in the twentieth dynasty.
- Determine the Artistic and Architectural Characteristics, which distinguish each cemetery of Necropolis of Western Thebes during the Ramesside Period.
- Recognize the changes which happened on the type and the form of the Scenes inside the tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period at Western Thebes.
Study preview:
The study is divided into preface and two main sections:

Preface:
The researcher explains in this preface the Recognition of the Ramesside Period, and also explains the role of Nobles in this period.

1st section "The Architectural and Artistic characteristics of the tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period at Western Thebes" This part consists of five chapters:

The First Chapter: "The tomb and its evolution in Ancient Egypt".

The researcher explains in this chapter the importance of the tomb and the evolution of Nobles tombs in Ancient Egypt, then classifies the tombs of Nobles belong to the Ramesside Period, to determine the dated tombs and the undated tombs.

Chapter Two: "The Architectural description of The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period".

The researcher explains in this chapter the Architectural description of each tomb followed by its planning.

Chapter Three: "the Architectural Characteristics of The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period".

This chapter explains the Architectural Characteristics in four points:
1- The materials used in the construction of the tombs.
2- The methods of constructing the tombs.
3- The Architectural items.
4- The Architectural types of the tombs.

Chapter four: "the Artistic Characteristics of The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period".

This chapter explains the following Artistic Characteristics:
1- The technique of carrying out the scenes.
Summary

2- The preparation of the scenes background.
3- The colors usage.
4- The distributing manner of the scenes on the walls.
5- The ornaments of the ceiling and the frieze.
6- The artisan.
7- The effects of Amarna art.

Chapter five: "Types of Scenes inside The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period and the changes happened to it". The researcher explains in this chapter the Types of Scenes and the reasons of changes which happened to it, so he will divide the scenes into two main types:
- The first type "the secular scenes".
- The second type "the Religious scenes".

2nd section "Analysis of the Architectural and Artistic characteristics of The tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period at Western Thebes" This part consists of three chapters:

The First Chapter: "Analysis of the Architectural characteristics of the tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period".

Chapter Two: "Analysis of the Artistic characteristics of the tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period".

Chapter Three: "Analysis of the Types of Scenes of the tombs of nobles belong to the Ramesside Period".

The results: The study ended to many results, arranged in three pointes:
- The results of the Architectural Characteristics study.
- The results of the Artistic Characteristics study.
- The results of the Types of Scenes study.
The Recommendations:
The researcher suggests some of Recommendations to develop the area of the tombs.

The References List:
This list contains the references which the researcher cites from it, and it is divided into:
- Arabic References.
- Translated References.
- Masters and PhDs References.
- Foreign References.
- Electronic sites.

The Appendix:
This Appendix contains the pictures, planning of the tombs and the maps of the necropolis of western Thebes.