Abstract:

The knot was one of the most important symbols in ancient Egyptian texts, such as: pyramid texts, coffin texts or texts in the Book of the Dead. This paper looks closely at the knot in Ancient Egyptian texts. The knot has represented a significant symbol in Ancient Egyptian religious texts. It attested a symbol of life, flourish and sovereignty in the pyramid and coffin texts as well as The Book of the Dead. It also represents a symbol for the beginning of life in the doctrines of creation. It also appears in solar myths symbolizing the light of the sun and its daily cycle. The knot was used in amulets as a symbol of protection and conserving the body. The paper tackles these points.
