

Urban and Architectural features of the Archeological city of Omdurman

Abstract:

Om Dorman city was the historical capital of Máhdia state, it was considering one of ancient cities in Sudan, it played an effective role in political life, as it has an excellent site and it was become the seat of government “authority” in the state of Mahdia, until its falling in 1898.

The research aims to study the most important period of modern Sudan which Called Mahdia State, by studying its Capital – Om Dorman- urban, city planning, remain buildings, and its construction material.

The study confirms that choosing the site of the city Om Dorman related with security needs (reasons) and their buildings performed its function efficiently.