

Abstract of second research

“The effectiveness of a suggested unit in social studies Based on Role-playing and Self-Questioning on Developing political and Environmental Awareness of second Cycle of Basic Education pupils.”

The research aimed at figuring out the effectiveness of a suggested unit based on role-playing and self-questioning strategies on developing political and environmental awareness dimensions through teaching social studies of first year preparatory pupils.

The researcher used the quasi experimental approach via one experimental group and the sample was chosen from first year preparatory pupils in El Mesharak Bahary preparatory school of youssef el Sedeek (٤٠ pupils)

The results of the research showed the effectiveness of the suggested unit on developing political and developing political and environmental awareness dimensions of the research. Significant statistical differences were found favoring the post administration the study presented a group of recommendations and suggestions.

Key words: (A suggested unit– social studies – role playing – self questioning – environmental awareness – political awareness).