

Development university students values in the last fifty years{1958-2010}-a field study

Abstract:

The current study aimed at Knowing the manifestation of changes inside the Egyptian society and specify the reasons, Comparing the University student's values in Egypt now with University student's values in the period of Fifty , Sixty ,and Eighty to know which values are confirmed or lost and also knowing the consistency of values inside society, and Making suggestion to confirm the positive values and overcome and face the negative one. The study results that The first patter of the study proved that its correcting to number the patterns of values to (Ethics values – social values- Gethsemane values- recreational values- security values – practical values), The study proved that the rejection of the first assumption for the another values. For The second assumption There are some difference has statistically significant between male and female students in the values layout and the study proved the inaccuracy of this assumption. And these differences in favor to the Gethsemane values ,The practical values, and all of patterns of values except the subjectivity values of students.

Key Words : Development- values- university students