

Evaluate the effectiveness of services provided to speech disorder children's families from the perspective of the generalist practice of social work

Constitute the first five years of the child in the fundamental basis of his linguistic life. The family still so far are primarily responsible for the upbringing of the child .during the first five years of childhood

The family is an important factor in a child's life and the formation of his language and in the arms of the family of the child acquires a first acoustic experience of crying and screaming. Since the language is the finest of the human sources of power are the means by which the exchange of ideas, feelings and sensations and their .evolving society continues

Where the language associated with the concept of networking and communication is a process that includes the exchange of information and feelings, ideas and beliefs.

The human communication is social interaction among the people they are and the impact of one party to another and from one individual to another of the group to other specific media such as language or pointing and others and through the communication process can the individual satisfy the basic needs of biological through communication process and realize the feelings of belonging to a group or a community interaction . And was able to communicate the individual process of achieving the same and confirmed in its interaction with others through the expression of the same feelings and trends and to achieve the success of communication with the community surrounding the individual from the low tension and harmony in social relations with those around him, and to achieve the transfer of .standards and values and attitudes groups giving a sense of belonging

And speech disorders faced by children refers to the linguistic delay any child that can not language acquisition in a timely manner may suffer from difficulties in understanding what is being said to him or to express what he wants to say is that the inability to use the vocabulary in the proper context, or by the use of structures .grammatical wrong and professionalism

Objectives of the study

The study attempts to achieve the following objectives

1. Assessment of services provided to families of troubled speech
  2. reaching proposals for activating the services provided to families of children .troubled speech from the perspective of exercise of public social service
- the importance of studying

1. The importance of childhood in general terms that the children are the wealth of .nations
2. global attention and local children
3. The importance of the problem of pronunciation and speech disorders in children .and its impact on the social networking
4. The importance of assessing the services to get to know how effective they are in .preparation for the development of these services

5. What resulted in studies and research the exposure of that class of problems with the lack of service provided which calls for the need to find how to cope with these .problems and activate services

6. attention of researchers and practitioners to try to use the perspective of exercise of public social service to activate the services provided to alleviate the problems faced .by families of troubled speech

The study questions

The study determined a major problem in question the effect assess the effectiveness of services provided to families of troubled speech the perspective of exercise of .public social service

:Branching off from the main question of the following sub-questions

1- determine the services provided to families of troubled speech ?

2- determine the level of services provided to families of troubled speech ?

3- determine the adequacy of the services provided to families of troubled speech?

4- To identify the obstacles facing the delivery of services provided to families of children Amadrba speak?

5- reaching proposals for activating the services provided to families of troubled speech from the perspective of exercise of public social service

Methodological procedures for study

the type of study •

Calendar of studies that seek to evaluate the effectiveness of services provided to .families of troubled speech method used •

This study used a comprehensive social survey of children aged from 6:12 a year and enrolled in the institution where it is this point more stages need of services has been numbered 63 children at the time of the study

Study tools •

1- Astbae`s form families have been applied to the children's families troubled speech to determine the services provided to the children of the institution and the obstacles .facing the provision of services

2- questionnaire staff have been applied to social workers and employees of the institution to identify the services provided and the constraints faced by the provision .of services

fields of study

1-spatial field: Bridges affection Society for Social Services, has been selected this Assembly for the following reasons:

Assembly that provide services for this category. * Provide her age stage *

2-the human sphere :

A comprehensive inventory of the children's families of troubled speech of the - Assembly numbered 63

Comprehensive inventory specialists and employees of the institution's 11 hit single -

3-The time-domain: data collection period from 01/06/2015 to 30/06/2015

Results of study

1-Identify the services provided to families of children Amadrba speech (health (services, educational, economic, social

2-Identify the level of services provided to families of children Amadrba speech .((high, medium, low

3-determine the adequacy of the services provided to families of children Amadrba (speech (insufficient, sufficient to some extent, is not sufficient

4-To identify the obstacles facing the delivery of services provided to families of children Amadrba speech (feedback to the child, the family feedback, feedback of .(the institution, to the community feedback, the feedback specialist

5-reaching proposals for activating the services provided to families of children .Amadrba speak from the perspective of exercise of public social service