

As suggested pelapedti for the Roles of social worker as agemelalut practitioner for Recovered from Drugs addiction

The problem of drug abuse or addiction problems that affect the construction of the community and its members because of their economic and psychological and health and social effects apply to both the individual and the society as it is a social phenomenon satisfactory pay her numerous factors, some respect for the individual and the other is the family and the third social construction general community.

The treatment of camel on the basis that control the environmental conditions, modified or developed to serve the camel can be a useful return and the impact on the camel capabilities which can then adapt to the conditions of society through the Acquisition of camel personal-social skills that make it able to cope with different stimuli in the future.

Which draw the attention of the researcher to search for a suggested roles for Specialist Social practitioner year in aftercare for addicted recuperating.

Objectives of the study: The study seeks to achieve the following objectives:

1. Identify the current roles of social worker as a General Practitioner in aftercare for addicted recuperating.
2. reach a proposed perception of the role of the social worker as a General Practitioner in aftercare for addicted recuperating.

the importance of studying :

1. This study addresses one of the important phenomena which aftercare for addicted recuperating It is a global and a local phenomenon and that this phenomenon has been spreading and increase.
2. The importance of the problem of addiction and prevention on the grounds that the problem has a bad effect on the individual and society with the increase in the number recuperating from addiction.
3. converting addict to man only adapt to the society and to combat the phenomenon of return.
4. What resulted Studies and Research of the negative effects of addiction and return to it.
5. attention of researchers and practitioners in the field of social sciences and social work to the interest in the study of this phenomenon many aspects of which helps to curb this phenomenon and to prevent the spread of a scientific and practical and thus alert to the importance of the social work profession in the community and dealing with the issues and problems pressing.

Questions of the study:

The study determined a major problem in question is the effect of the proposed concept to a door social worker as a General Practitioner in achieving aftercare for Maven of addiction.

Branching off from the main sub-questions to ask the following:

1. What services provided to the recuperating addict?
2. What current roles of social worker in subsequent care for recuperating addict?
3. What are the obstacles that limit their specialist aftercare roles?
4. What perception proposed roles of the social worker in the aftercare?

Methodological procedures of the study:

- the type of study: This study belongs to a pattern descriptive studies, which aim to reach a proposed perception of the roles of the social worker as a General Practitioner in aftercare for addicted recuperating
- The curriculum: social survey sample to determine the study population consisted of social workers and a sample of addicts.
- Tools of the study: The study was based on the following tools:
  1. applied to measure the specialists to determine the current roles of the specialist practitioner in the aftercare for addicted recuperating.
  2. questionnaire applied to a sample of recovering undecided hotline Abbasia hospital mental health clinics.

The fields of study:

1. spatial field: was chosen hotline mental health clinics Abbasia hospital because they are dealing with addicts in general and addicts in particular. A human sphere: intentional sample of specialists working clinics hotline mental health hospital a bbasia and numbered (10).

(B) a sample of addicts attending Hotline Clinics time of the survey numbered (80) according to the following conditions:

- o be undecided at the time of the study.
  - o The duration of the recovery of the month to be less than a year.
2. The time-domain: data collection period from 01/08/2015 to 31/08/2015.

Results of the study: The study found:

- 1-determine the services provided to the addict recuperating (health services - social services - psychiatric services)
- 2-determine the current roles of social worker as a General Practitioner in aftercare for addicted recuperating
- 3-obstacles that hinder the recuperating addict to take advantage of services (relapsing addict -llosrh - the specialist - the institution - community)
- 4-reaching proposal perception of the role of the social worker as a General Practitioner in aftercare for addicted recuperating.