

Research Summary

The Use of Group Discussion in the Method of Social Group Work For the Development of Social Responsibility in Ladies Proceeding to Marriage

An Experimental Study Applied to Voluntary Association for Marriage & Family Guidance in Jeddah

Prepared by: Dr / Nadia Abdelaziz Hegazi

First: Study Problem & Importance:

One of the most prominent factors that lead to family problems is the conflict of roles that creeps to family life. This is clear in the disaffection of one of the couple (wife or husband) or both towards their new life. When the wife refuses to give up the life style she got used to in her life before marriage; this is considered as the first step towards a lot of problems that arouse when the wife deserts her husband's house to her family house escaping from the obligations and burdens of the role she assumes and her inability to bear social responsibility. Accordingly, the importance lies in social responsibility development in those ladies proceeding to marriage.

Group discussion technique in the method of Social Group Work may have an outstanding role in the development of social responsibility in those ladies proceeding to marriage and need to develop their knowledge of their rights and duties as wives as well as developing their knowledge of the husband's rights and duties and developing their knowledge of their children's rights. In addition, they need to acquire these skills and experience that enable them to assume their roles and responsibilities as wives considering that the wife is first responsible for the stability and continuity of familial life. Accordingly, this study problem has been identified in the significant question: Does the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work lead to the development of social responsibility in those ladies proceeding to marriage?

Second: Study Conceptions:

١. Group discussion in the method of Social Group Work
٢. Social responsibility
٣. Ladies proceeding to marriage

Third: Study Objectives:

Testing the impact of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of social responsibility in those ladies proceeding to marriage. Out of this goal, a group of subsidiary aims emerges:

١. Testing the impact of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of awareness in those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning marriage rights.
٢. Testing the impact of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of awareness in those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning marriage duties.
٣. Testing the impact of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of awareness in those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning common rights and duties between the couple (husband and wife).
٤. Testing the impact of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of awareness in those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning children's rights.
٥. Testing the impact of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and acquiring those ladies proceeding to marriage some social skills that help in the success of marriage life.

Fourth: Study Hypotheses:

This study emerges from the following basic hypothesis: There is a positive statistically-significant relationship between the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of social responsibility in those ladies proceeding to marriage. Out of this main hypothesis, a group of subsidiary hypotheses emerges:

١. There is a positive statistically-significant relationship between the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of the awareness of those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning marriage rights.
٢. There is a positive statistically-significant relationship between the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of the awareness of those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning marriage duties.
٣. There is a positive statistically-significant relationship between the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of the awareness of those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning common rights and duties between the couple (husband and wife).
٤. There is a positive statistically-significant relationship between the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and the development of the awareness of those ladies proceeding to marriage concerning children's rights.
٥. There is a positive statistically-significant relationship between the use of group discussion within the method of Social Group Work and acquiring those ladies proceeding to marriage some social skills that help in the success of marriage life.

Fifth: Study Methodological Procedures:

١. Study type:

This study belongs to experimental studies.

٢. Method Used:

According to the type and nature of this study, the method used is the experimental method.

٣. Study tools:

Scale of social responsibility in ladies proceeding to marriage.

٤. Study Aspects:

a) Spatial field:

Voluntary Association for Marriage and Family Guidance in Jeddah.

b) Human Field:

A group of these ladies proceeding to marriage who visit the Voluntary Association for Marriage and Family Guidance in Jeddah and those who get benefit from its services that amounts to (١٠). The researcher has used it as an empirical and control group at the same time.

c) Time Field:

Time field of this study during the period of doing this experiment has been determined and it lasted for three months starting from ١٧/١٠/٢٠١٤ till ١٧/١/٢٠١٥ at the rate of two meetings per week on Monday and Wednesday every week. The duration of each meeting is two hours.

Sixth: Field Study Results:

This study has concluded a group of important results such as: the validity of the main hypothesis of this study as well as the validity of subsidiary hypotheses.