

Testing the effectiveness using client centered therapy model to improve social adjustment of orphan children

Abstract

There is one main aim; namely, testing the effectiveness using client centered therapy model to improve social adjustment of orphan children through the following :

- The child's sense of belonging.
- The child's sense of social responsibility.
- Building successful social relationship.

Concepts of the study:

The study includes three main concepts:

- Orphan child.
- Social adjustment .
- Client centered therapy.

Procedures of the study:

1. Type of study:

This study is experimental study

2- The Study's Method:

The experimental method

3. The study's Tools:

- scales of the social adjustment of orphan children.
- Individual and joint interviews

Fields of the study:

4. Fields of the study:

1. The setting field:

The social care institution in Hadeka, Fayoum governorate .

2. The Human Field:

Sample of the orphan children their number reached (5) cases.

3. The Time field:

Search application took one months during which professional interference was performed from 2016 to 2017.