

Promotion research

Summary of the first research

Research Title

Activating the project material to qualify graduates of faculties of specific education and corresponding to the requirements of society and the variables of the times and the creation of job opportunities

The subject of this research can be summarized in the fact that the problem of unemployment is one of the most important contemporary humanitarian issues. The researchers see that graduates of the Faculty of Specific Education at Fayoum University and other colleges suffer from the same problem, despite the fact that these graduates have the expertise and skills that enable them to create small, , So the researchers believe that these graduates can be qualified to enable them to prepare and implement a variety of ideas for small projects after graduation, enabling them to find jobs, and thus can find practical solutions to this issue and help these young people to contribute effectively to the development of society in case of non-E Serious job opportunities, as this preparation will create new horizons for graduates and enable them to keep up with the changes of the successive times