

The use of some different techniques in enriching the single dress design for ladies " Women's Abaya" to serve functional, aesthetic and economic aspects .

Rasha Abbas El Gohary

Home Economics,
Faculty of Specific Education
Mansoura University

Ahmed Mohamed Farouk Ahmed

Home Economics,
Faculty of Specific Education
fayoum university

Abstract :

This research aims to :” The use of some different techniques in enriching the single dress design for ladies " Women's Abaya" to serve functional, aesthetic and economic aspects ”to produce One, also , three different techniques were used (patch work , crochet ,embroidery with strips) to produce 9 products so as to show for specialists in the field and to judge it by using a questionnaire. from to get The best implemented product in achieving the aspects of evaluations .

The study has reached the following results:

The best implemented product in achieving the aspects of evaluations (as a all) according to the opinions of specialists (abaya 1 followed the patchwork technique , abaya 9 from the strips embroidery technique) where as the least implemented product in achieving the aspects of evaluations (as a all) was (abaya 8 following the crochet technique)we can arrange the used techniques as follow :- Embroidery with strips , patchwork and crochet .