

Faculty of Specific Education
Textile & Clothing Dept.

Proposed Teaching unit from the costumes design curriculum for home Economics students Faculty of Specific Education, Fayoum University

Thesis

Submitted for requirements for Msc in Faculty of Specific Education, Home
Economics, Textile & Clothing

By

Islam Gomaa khalaf

Assistant lecturer in Home Economics Dept., Faculty of Specific Education, Fayoum
University

Supervised by

Prof. Dr. Magda M. Mady

Professor of Textile & Clothing
Vice dean of student affairs ,
Helwan University

Ass. Prof. Amal A.Saber

Associate professor of Textile & Clothing
Faculty of Specific Education,
Fayoum University

Dr. Amina m. Alabiad

Lecturer of fundamental &
Faculty of Specific Education,
Ain Shams University

2010-1431

Summary

Proposed Teaching unit from the costumes design curriculum for home Economics students Faculty of Specific Education, Fayoum University

The research consists of five chapters, as follows:

Chapter One:

Contains an introduction to the research, and the problem, objectives, and research hypotheses, and the importance of research, and the border, and the research methodology, terminology and related previous studies.

Chapter Two

Entitled learning and sense of self-definition, bases, characteristics, programmed instruction, types and preparation phases, bases, programmed instruction and criticism of it.

Chapter Three

Entitled blouse concept, definition, history, material, and their components. Fabrics Aldrich Pattern, and the component parts of blouse.

Chapter Four

Entitled the pilot study and included the study's methodology, and tools used in the study, and the application on the research sample, and Model Selection, and scheduled timeline for implementation, and preparation of raw materials required for the implementation of the experiment.

Chapter Five

Contains search results and statistically analyzed and discussed and recommendations and extract the most important results of the search.