

The Impact of Tourism Investment on the Size of the Inter-Arab Tourism to Egypt

ABSTRACT

Tourism is one of the most important economic and social sectors in the world play an important role in the development of nations are source of income in the national economy and a key component of service exports components, and thus tourism investment is active is necessary because of its raised directly and indirectly on the yield and yield economic Tours as it It helps to maintain the main tourist resources in the state, whether historical or natural resources. As tourism investment will help establish small projects complementary to tourism projects in addition to developing and improving local industries and crafts, local products and the development of hotels, restaurants, services, and transport and communications ... etc. Tourism investment and plays a big role in promoting tourism movement coming to the tourist destination.

Thus, the main objective of this study is to identify incentives and impediments to tourism investment facing investors in addition to recognize the reality of Arab investments flow in the tourism sector and its impact on the establishment and development of various tourism projects, And studying Arab tourism to Egypt and to identify the obstacles that face.

The researcher used descriptive methodology to test the hypotheses of the study and achieve their goals and rely on a questionnaire has been designed to include elements of tourism investment and tourism investment in Egypt and the Arab incentives and constraints of Arab tourism investment and the most important projects brought to the Arab tourism investment in Egypt. It was this form guide for those responsible for investment in the General Authority for Investment, the Ministry of Tourism and its bodies, as well as the departments of tourism investment in some tourist provinces.

The Researcher has been using the statistical program spss "sheaf of statistical social science" version 16 for data entry and analysis ,.

And then to reach a number of conclusions and recommendations for further tourism investment and motion tourist Arabic to and from Egypt: Egypt has many of the ingredients and incentives for attracting tourism and investment tourism but there are many obstacles and barriers that stand in front of attraction and encourage such investments. This addition, Arab tourism is not characterized by excessive sensitivity that characterize the global tourism to the unrest in the region, this and there is a need to facilitate the necessary procedures for investment and to streamline and stabilize the monetary and economic policies and modify the cruise legislation from time to time to cope with any developments, and activating the role of government agencies in overcoming the obstacles in front of investors and attract inward investment, with the enactment of legislation and laws to prevent the exploitation of tourists, interest in tourism security to protect the tourist and the citizen and the potential of the country from any threats to internal or external

Key words: Arab tourism investment, inter-Arab tourism, components, incentives, investment obstacles, Egypt.