

English Summary

This research dedicated to discuss the |
"Costumes of Kings and Individuals` Statues to the end of the late period, Archaeological- analytical Study"

By describing and analyzing, these Costumes.

The research Comprises: - Introduction, Five Chapters, Conclusions, Bibliography, appendix of Catalogue and Tables.

The Introduction deals with the definition of Costumes in Ancient Egypt, the beginning of spinning and Weaving and some definition deal with the industry.

First Part consists of Fifth chapters

The First Chapter: "Spinning and Weaving Industry in Ancient Egypt". Deals with the first idea for the Egyptian people to make their clothes, how to use the spindle and looms in weaving process, the technique of the weaving in ancient Egypt.

The Second chapter: "The Costumes of men in Ancient Egypt"

Deals with the clothes which wore by king and individuals in ancient Egypt to the end of late period, so this chapter divided into 3 sections:

- Section One "Kilt of Kings in Ancient Egypt".
- Section Two "Kilt of Individuals in Ancient Egypt".
- Section Three "Apron in Ancient Egypt".

The Third chapter: "the Costumes of Women in Ancient Egypt".

Deals with the clothes which wore by queens and ladies in ancient Egypt to the end of late period, so this chapter divided into 2 sections.

- Section One "the Costumes of Queens in Ancient Egypt".
- Section Two "the Costumes of Ladies in ancient Egypt".

The Fourth chapter: "The Costumes combine between men and women in Ancient Egypt".

Deals with the clothes which wore by two sex of people men and women like Cloaks, Bag-Tunics, Loincloth, and Wrap- round Dress And the researcher divide this chapter into 6 Sections in every one discuss one cloth for men and women.

- Section One: "Cloaks of Kings to end of late period".
- Section Two: "Cloaks of Individuals to end of late period".
- Section Three: "Bag- Tunics of Kings to end of late period".
- Section Four: "Bag- Tunics of Individuals to end of late period".
- Section Five: "Loincloth in Ancient Egypt".
- Section Six: "Wrap- round Dress in Ancient Egypt".

Second Part consists of Six chapters

The chapter: "Analytical Study: Costumes: Social class in Ancient Egypt"

Deals with the different clothes of Kings around the different period and also the Individuals and make a comparison between all these clothes for all categories in ancient Egyptian society, so the chapter divided into 6 chapters.

- Chapter One: "the clothes of Kings to the end of late period".
- Chapter Two: "the clothes of Queens to the end of late period".
- Chapter Three: "the clothes of Governor and high officials".
- Chapter Four: " the clothes of the Aristocracy Women"
- Chapter Five: "the clothes of Priests in Ancient Egypt".
- Chapter Six: "the clothes of official and Servants"

Conclusion:

Contain the important results about the subject and the kinds of clothes or costumes which had been spread in the ancient Egyptian society from the kings to the servants, then the differences between these costumes from the old Kingdom to the Late Period.

Appendix:

Contains the Bibliography of the study, Catalogue of the Statues which represent as samples for the study and Tables for results.